Reflection

Do an internet search for 'middle class problems' or 'first world problems' and you'll find lists of complaints about just how challenging modern life can be. Many of us like to have the latest phone or laptop, furniture, clothes or car. The character in this Sunday's Gospel had such a good harvest of crops that he ran out of space. He built bigger barns and then sat back to 'eat, drink, have a good time' Yet things did not go according to plan.

The Sunday readings offer us an opportunity to examine our relationship with possessions. We know that we come into this world with nothing and leave with nothing. Rather than collecting riches for ourselves, our thoughts should be on 'heavenly things'. What treasures are important to us?

Deaths: We pray for the recently deceased: Gary O'Loughlin, Sycamore Drive and Belfast; May McCaffrey (née Kildea), Brookeborough; Bridget Brady, Cliffoney, Co Sligo. May they rest in peace.
