Parish Cells: Are You Interested? The Irish National Cell Committee describes a cell community as "a faith group of 4 to 12 people, who meet every two weeks in the informal setting of a home." It is not another prayer group though prayer is very much part of it. It is a group that reaches out to the community and the parish. It is a group that looks for ways to help and to support the parish community. The entire meeting takes about one hour and twenty minutes. If you are interested in knowing more about this please let one of the priests know or leave your name and number in the Parish Office and we will get back to you.

Care of Creation Corner: Each of us knows the chaos of searching, wondering, and waiting for direction. In the Genesis story it is the Word of God that brings order, balance, and beauty to creation. We experience God's presence in the created world. When we consider the beauty of the world and understand that "God saw how good it was" after each act of creation, we become increasingly aware that our special place in creation gives us unique dignity and value. In turn, we have both a responsibility to care for creation and give God praise and thanks.
