Reflection: If we read today's Gospel carefully, we will see a pattern in Jesus' teaching method that will be repeated in the weeks ahead. Jesus' first teaching is directed to the Pharisees who questioned him. Jesus' words are then directed to the crowd, teaching that a person is defiled by his or her words and actions, not by the food that he or she eats. In verses omitted in today's reading, we learn that Jesus returned home with his disciples, who in turn questioned him about what he had taught. The words we read at the conclusion of today's Gospel are addressed to Jesus' disciples. Mark's narrative shows several audiences for Jesus' teaching: his antagonists, the crowds, and Jesus' disciples. As we see in this reading, the words to the Pharisees are often words of challenge. The teaching to the crowds is often a general, sometimes cryptic, message. With the disciples, who often misunderstand Jesus' words, further explanation is offered about his message and its meaning. Jesus' words challenge us as well. In our desire to show that we are holy, we might also give too much credence to externals, following rules without thinking about the intention behind them. Jesus reminds us that we do not make ourselves holy by our actions. Rather, we become holy when we allow God's Spirit to transform us. Our actions should be an expression of the conversion of our heart to God and to God's ways.

May she rest in peace

They are Rachel Shaw, Kelly Campbell, Charlene Leonard and Stacey McCusker. Sincere thanks are due to the Parish RCIA Team. (RCIA stands for Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults.) Baptism is practiced by the main Christian denominations. Thus, once properly baptised in whatever denomination (with water and the appropriate form of words) a person is not baptised again, even when being formally received into the Catholic Church. Sincere thanks to the Parish RCIA Team for the time and effort they expend in this parish service. As a parish we owe a debt of gratitude to this parish team and we congratulate the four people who have attended many meetings and who will be received and make their First Communion next Sunday. Please make the effort to attend this Mass in solidarity with our new parish members.
