

Gospel Values

The influence of Christianity on our culture is such that much of the education in our society is inspired by the Spirit of Christ. In our parish schools, love of neighbour and an appropriate love of ourselves is strongly connected with the love of God. In our parish schools also, students and pupils can pick up a lived sense of being loved by God, in line with the teaching of Jesus. The confidence this engenders brings about an atmosphere of joy, freedom, respect, challenge, co-operation and celebration. We can be proud of the Catholic Ethos of our parish schools, especially in this Catholic Schools Week.

Thank You to Our Religious Brothers and Our Religious Sisters

In naming 2015 as the 'Year Of Consecrated Life', Pope Francis has asked us to be grateful for what religious sisters and brothers have given to us. Here in Enniskillen during Catholic Schools Week, we remember with deep gratitude what the Sisters of Mercy and the Presentation Brothers gave us in their work for schools. Through their time and energy, through their vision and their very lives, they gave County Fermanagh a firm foundation in which much of our parish educational achievement continues to be rooted today.

Catholic Education

in St. Michael's Parish

Catholic Schools Week 2015

Thank you to our local schools

Our Schools Are People-Centred

The call that comes with each child is the most important call there is. It is a call to care for them. Parents, Guardians, Grandparents, Godparents, the Family Circle and the Community in general; these all seek to answer this call. So also do schools; in particular the teaching staff, classroom assistants and support staff in all the schools of our parish. During Catholic Schools Week, we acknowledge and say 'Thank You' to all these people. Together, we can and do make a positive difference in the life of each child.

Our Schools Are Inclusive

Northern Ireland is a different society than it was twenty years ago. Students in our parish schools are welcomed from more diverse backgrounds today. A growing number of pupils in our schools were born outside this island. Their presence broadens our cultural awareness and enriches our values. Our parish schools are inclusive in other ways too, welcoming students whose educational and social needs are diverse indeed. While the majority of pupils attending our parish schools come from a Catholic background, not all do. Catholic Schools are not simply schools for Catholics. During Catholic Schools Week, we say 'Thank You' to our parish schools for the way they meet the learning, social and pastoral needs of all pupils including those from other cultures and religions.

Develop Potential

All schools seek to develop the full potential and uniqueness of their pupils. The leadership and staff of our Catholic Schools aim to promote the holistic development of each pupil, focusing on the academic, social, emotional and spiritual development of each individual. Academic results matter; so also do personal qualities, the ability to communicate and engage with others, spiritual awareness, a sense of direction in life and a sense of God. During Catholic Schools Week, we acknowledge the leadership and all the staff of the local schools in our parish as key providers of excellence in education and formation.

Contribute to Common Good

The call to love our neighbour is an important call. The call to a constructive and healthy love of ourselves is important too. These twin calls together form the bedrock of a peaceful, reconciled, diverse and flourishing community. We are thankful that these calls are at the heart of our local parish schools. We acknowledge the work of our parish schools in forming young people as active citizens who not only contribute to the good of the society in which they live, but who also work for the good of the wider world.
